Suffragists Play Big Part in War Activities of U. S.

Eighteen Members of National Association Are Behind Lines in France

Liberty Loans Helped

Women Prominent in Movement Hold High Places in Government Work

Eighteen service stars in the banner of the National American Woman Suffrage Association represent the eighteen prominent workers or officers of that organization who are now in "line duty" in France. Behind these eighteen are thousands of suffragists in the United States who have thrown themselves into war work, and a report of the war activities of these suffragists since April 6 has just been made to the Tribune by Miss Mary Ogden White, of the national organization.

In February, 1917, when it began to look like war in the United States, the national suffragists organized a campaign to Americanize the military census was taken suffragists organizations assumed full responsibility for the census in many districts throughout the United States. In the first Liberty bond campaign suffragists sold $3,837,300 worth of bonds and $9,785,750 in the second. They have organized and are carrying on an extensive campaign to Americanize the alien. Right now their citizenship classes are going on down on the East Side and in other foreign districts.

They have a committee on guard for equal pay for women in war work and for the protection of women in industry. They work in direct cooperation with the Women's Land Army of America. Mrs. Henry Wade Rogers, the treasurer of the suffrage association, is vice-president of the Land Army.

They have established the Woman's Overseas Hospitals, which include the new gas-mobil hospital, as well as refuge and military units. This last is the biggest piece of work that the national association has undertaken. It is under the direct supervision of the French government, and is financed and staffed entirely by suffragists from suffrage ranks. Suffrage collection boxes have been emptied to raise the money whenever a county or city organization could not find the funds elsewhere.

Suffrage desks are empty all over the country, while their owners fight for the war. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw is chairman of the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense, of which Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt is also a member. Mrs. Stanley McCormick, chairman of the national food production league, heads the new gas hospital. Mrs. Guilford, chairman of the Tennessee Equal Suffrage Association, is on the national Liberty Loan women's committee.

Dr. Baker Asks City To Support Mothers

Responsibility for the maternity welfare of the city should be assumed by private organizations until the city is able to take over the work, Dr. S. Josephine Baker, director of the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the Department of Health, said yesterday. Dr. Baker called upon these organizations to assume the care of needy mothers in each of the fifty-nine health districts of the city, through the health stations already established.

The health department has only nine nurses engaged in pre-natal work, said Dr. Baker. "We need fifty-nine. The city is not at present financially able to increase pre-natal service to this extent, however, and, until it is able to do so, I should like to see privately controlled organizations extend their activities to meet the demand."

The maternity work as outlined by Dr. Baker and the organizations working with her covers not only the care of the mother before the birth of the infant, but also the care of the child during the first year.

Negro women of the Harlem district have affiliated with the New York Urban League to promote the work of the Children's Year, the league announced yesterday. The league announced yesterday that the Harlem district, which was once an examining center, where twice a week the little colored babies are weighed and measured and examined.

20 Car Rowdies Held

In a campaign against "car rowdies" the Coney Island police yesterday arrested twenty men at the West End Station who were caught climbing through windows of elevated trains. They were held on charges of disorderly conduct.

Complaints had reached the police that in the Sunday crush at the elevated terminals, men have frequently knocked down women and children on crowded trains. The majority of those arrested were youths just under the present draft age.

Roosevelt Gives Nobel Peace Prize to War Charity

Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., K. of C. and Allied Nations Are to Share in Sum Awarded Former President for Activity in Ending the Russo-Japanese Conflict

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 25.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt today made public the amounts of money he is to give to war charities, this money being from the Nobel peace prize, which was awarded him for his action in connection with the peace of Portsmouth which closed the Russo-Japanese war. When the Colofel received the prize he turned it over to the government with the idea of establishing a peace commission. Nothing was done with this idea, and several weeks ago Mr. Roosevelt asked Congress to return the money to him. This was done, and then the Colofel turned it over to war charities.

The Colofel tells what he did in a letter addressed to Congressman James A. Gallivan, which says:

"In accordance with the terms of the Congressional resolution introduced by you in the House of Representatives and by Senator Johnson, acting for Senator Williams, in the Senate, Secretary Redfield, for the commission, returned to me the Nobel Peace Prize Fund. The securities, when sold, plus the cash in hand, amounted to $45,482.83. I have disposed of this sum as follows:

"To the American Red Cross, through the treasurer, John Skelton Williams, $9,000. (The American Red Cross and possibly some other war charities or war activities will receive further sums of money from my royalties on certain scenarios of motion pictures to be shortly produced by the McGraw Company. All the royalties I receive from the pictures in question during the period of the war will be thus used.)

"To Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., now working in the Y. M. C. A. in France, $5,000. (Mrs. Roosevelt is working in the Y. M. C. A. I suppose that some of the money will be used in the connection therewith, but the disposal is absolutely at her discretion.)

"To the Young Men's Christian Association National War Work Council, $4,000. (Gives $4,000 to K. of C.)

"To the Knights of Columbus War Activities Committee, $4,000.

"To the United States War Relief Board for war activities, $4,000.

"To the Salvation Army war fund, $4,000. Have sent this check through Mrs. Edith Mulhall Achilles, 616 West 116th Street; Rosabelle Holland, 877 West End Avenue; Lillian M. Hollander, 877 West End Avenue; Selma Hollander and Yetta Altman, of the same address; Secy W. Denison, 324 West 103rd Street, and C. M. Williams, 419 West 114th Street.

Other signers are S. F. Brown, 2914 Broadway; Jessie M. Lucius, 417 Riverside Drive; Barbara E. Lucius, 417 Riverside Drive; M. E. Williams, 301 West 103rd Street; M. E. All Are Republicans

Mrs. Dobbin, when seen yesterday, said:

"I circulated the petition, and I know all the signers are Republicans. I was appointed, so that we may very properly present to him the signed petition and ask him to sign the pledge."

Mrs. Estelle Raymond, 849 West End Avenue, said yesterday:

"Yes, I signed the petition after reading the preamble and after duly weighing the purpose of it. I have seen myself the effects of the use of intoxicants among our sailors and sailors. What we need at this time is the hour of the nation's peril, is total abstinence from alcoholic beverages by all, from the soldiers and sailors to those who are at home. The management of the state, although Mrs. Dobbin probably had more to do with the framing and circulation of the petition than any one else, the document sets forth my sentiments."

Miss Raymond is a retired school teacher, and her sister Lillian is an active teacher.

When Governor Whitman was seen last night at the St. Regis after his return from Brooklyn and asked if he had received the petition sent by Mrs. Dobbin, he said that he had not received it, but that he was told about it in Brooklyn. He would not comment on it. Neither would he comment on the subway situation, other than to make it clear that the management of the subway was in the hands of the Public Service Commission.

Which do you want them to have? Every one of them has been in the most cases of the terrible plague mentioned. Some of them have tuberculosis fathers, some mothers, others sisters or brothers. Others are children of the diseased. There is only one way to keep these children safe, and that is to give them fresh air and sunlight and nourishment. ## Jack Barrymore Proves His Ability Again in "On the Quiet"

This is the second consecutive Barrymore week at the Strand; and now it is Jack, who is appearing in "On the Quiet," an adaptation of Augustus Thomas's farce, in which Willie Collier was seen on the stage many seasons ago.

Barrymore works so fast that he seems to be about three laps ahead of you most of the time, but after the picture is finished and you have time to sit down and catch your breath you know that you enjoyed it. He is very funny, and we cannot say that he is in the least like any other comedian.

Barrymore is Robert Ridgeway, a Yale man, who desires to marry Agnes Colt, but her brother will not permit her to marry until he has reformed. He is exceedingly optimistic to believe that Robert ever could reform. We knew as soon as we looked at his comical face that he was reformed. He promises to reform and he does succeed to the extent of cutting out "demon beer." He finally marries the girl without any consent save her own, and then comes the task of keeping the marriage quiet. This is not so easy to do when a few people are in on the secret, one of them a rough person with his own little tricks.

Finally, to escape the late brother bride and bridegroom don diving suits and go down to the bottom of the ocean. The scenes on the ocean bed are wonderfully realistic in fact, the illusion is so perfect that we wondered if the Williamson brothers hadn't made the picture.

Lola Meredith is Agnes Colt, Helen Greene plays Ethel, the elder sister, and others in the cast are Frank Loser, Alfred Hickman and Cyril Chadwick. Chester Withey directed the picture.

The overture is "Barber of Seville." Herbert Waters, sings "When the Boys Come Home," and "My Little Selection is 'Tina voce pouca' from 'The Barber of Seville.' The comedy is called 'Just Plain Folks.'

If you intend to visit both the Rivoli and the Rivoli this week go to the Rivoli first, for "The Hun Within" is playing at the Rivoli, and after you have seen it, go to the Rivoli for "The Hun Within." The picture is a war picture in this side of the ocean. The plot deals with a spy menace in America. Much of it is melodrama of the most daring sort. Things don't happen like that in real life, of course; that is what makes real life so dull.

"The Hun Within" is one of the most beautifully produced pictures seen recently, and it is hard to mention any one, excepting George Fawcett, who makes a picture like it. However, if one may believe the programme, the picture was directed by Chester Withey, and he is to be congratulated, as it is a masterpiece.

Dorothy Gish is charming as "Beth," and as Henry Wagner, a disloyal German, excellent work. The picture, which shows how thoroughly Hunish he is after his return from Germany, is exceedingly clever.

Charles Gerard is Henry Wagner, a loyal American, although both in the fatherland. The bit of acting when his son shoots him is as good as any thing of the kind we have seen, not only in this picture, but in any picture.

"To Speaker Champ Clark, for war activities or charities, $500. I suggest, but do not stipulate, that this be used in Missouri."

"To Mrs. John A. Williams, for similar use, $500. I suggest, but do not stipulate, that this be used in Mississippi."

"To Mrs. Hiram Johnson, for similar use, $500. I suggest, but do not stipulate, that this be used in California."

"I wish to express my obligation to Secretary Redfield and his associates for the promptness with which they acted."

Then there are 250 boys scheduled to begin vacations on Wednesday. One hundred of them are colored lads from the middle West and Harlem. They haven't had a day outside the city this summer. Would you like to see their teeth shine? Give the $500 to pay for dental vacations at the Shepherd Knapp Home, Litchfield, Conn., and they will smile for you.

If you can't give the whole $540 or $500, give $5 to provide for one boy or girl.

Remember that besides these parties scheduled to go to the country this week the fund has still to raise the money to pay the expenses of 500 out-ings which were begun the latter half of the summer. # Democrats Urged To Poll Big Vote At the Primaries

E. H. Harris, State Committee Chairman, Sends Letter to Party Leaders

Chairman Edwin H. Harris of the Democratic State Committee sent out a call yesterday to the members of the various county committees to get busy and try to get out a large Democratic vote in the primaries. He is afraid that apathy will result in making the Democratic organization look small in comparison with the Republicans, who are sure on account of the battle between Governor Whitman and Attorney General Lewis to poll a large vote on September 3.

While the friends of Mr. Smith, who keep predicting that Mr. Smith, as the organization favorite, will have no trouble in defeating William Church Osborn, it is a fact that what Mr. Osborn is circulating the state and advertising in the subways and street cars, the Tammany men are afraid that Osborn is being held too cheaply and that he may "break even" in the state.

"The condition in the Republican party," says Mr. Harris's letter, "makes it greatly to the interest of our state that we poll as large a primary vote as possible, so that the difference in the total amount of votes cast in the primary will not be so large as to cause comment. An especially large vote cast at the primary for the Governor in our sole contest will look well to the party throughout the state, and be considered an omen of victory in the fall."

"You are therefore especially urged as a member of your county committee not only to vote yourself at the primary on September 3, but by personal solicitation by telephone and any other means that may suggest themselves to you to obtain in your district the largest primary vote possible."

Locally, the Tammany leaders are all lending a hand to Christopher D. Sullivan, the fusion candidate in the new year. Sullivan is running this year in a district which includes part of the Ghetto, and his opponent is Alderman Joseph P. McGuire, one of the known Socialists in the city. The Tammany men say that the Socialists are "lending" voters to Lee by the known method of having bachelor Socialists, who can vote in one district as well as another, move into the district and cast a vote for Comrade Lee.

Senator Bernard Downing is in the same boat practically with Mr. Sullivan, as his district takes in pretty much the same territory. Unusual efforts will be made by both the Democrats and Republicans to elect Sullivan and Downing.

At the Casino Florence Reed opened in a new picture produced by the Pioneer Film Company, called "Wives of Men." This will be reviewed tomorrow.
